FORE

This is the age of Mary, and her purpose is clear: to save the world from the terrible effects of sin; to win souls for the Sacred Heart of her Divine Son. She told the children in 1917 that the war was a punishment from God for sin; that men must cease offending her Divine Son, already too grievously offended. If not, there would be another and a more terrible war; nations would be annihilated; the Holy Father would suffer much and Russia would spread her errors throughout the entire world, promoting wars and persecution of the faithful. Had her own children listened, there would never have been the second World War with all its terrible consequences for humanity.

Once again Mary is warning us as she hurries on her gentle way. This time it is not Europe's problem. It is one of survival for all the world. The purpose of this Pilgrimage is to make as many people as possible hear and heed the message of Fatima while there is still time. The hour is late and the issue at stake is fast being clarified. This is a time of struggle between love and hate, good and evil, God and anti-God. Will the call of Fatima be answered by Catholic people in sufficient numbers to avert the last act of the tragedy that threatens a tottering civilization? Will Russia be converted and that era of peace granted to humanity without another war, too horrible to contemplate, when robot atom bombs may be aimed at will from distant Europe or even Asia towards any point in the Americas and in the world; and when no mother, anywhere on God's fair earth, may watch beside the cot of her sleeping child without a stab of painful apprehension lest that child should not live to see the dawn?

"If my requests are heard, Russia will be converted and there will be peace." It is up to the Christian world to see to it that those requests are heard. "It is five minutes to twelve and we are in the valley of decision."

Sincerely,

Wm. C. McGrath

It was on October 19, 1947, in Ottawa, Canada, that the Pilgrim Virgin tour was officially inaugurated for the New World. It was a new "venture," if one may use the word. Since then the Right Reverend Msgr. William C. McGrath has visited fifty-three dioceses and more than 800 churches. More than four million people, exclusive of radio audiences, have heard of the plea of the Blessed Mother at Fatima for amendment of life and consecration to her Immaculate Heart.

"I come to ask the consecration of the world to my Immaculate Heart and the Communion of Reparation on the First Saturday of the month.

"If my requests are heeded, Russia will be converted and there will be peace in the world. If not, Russia will spread its errors throughout the world, provoking wars and persecution against the Church."

— Mary's Message at Fatima

Although his duties as Chancellor of the Diocese of La Crosse no longer permit him to serve us in those capacities, they do enable him to further the spiritual and material interests, not only of Aquinas, but also of the other schools of the diocese. For this reason we deem it a privilege to dedicate the '50 TRUMPET to the Right Reverend Msgr. George A. Hammes.

THE RIGHT REVEREND MONSIGNOR GEORGE A. HAMMES
Chancellor of the Diocese of La Crosse

The Right Reverend Monsignor George A. Hammes, son of August Hammes and Caroline Schumacher, was born September 11, 1911, at St. Joseph's Ridge, Wisconsin. He successively attended St. Joseph's Ridge Parochial School; St. Lawrence College, Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin; St. Louis Preparatory Seminary, and Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri; and the Sulpician Seminary and the Catholic University, Washington, D.C. He was ordained May 22, 1937, in St. Joseph's Cathedral, La Crosse, by the Most Reverend William R. Griffin, Auxiliary Bishop of La Crosse.

Monsignor Hammes served as Secretary to His Excellency, the Most Reverend Alexander J. McGavick, from 1937 to 1944 and since then as Chancellor of the Diocese. From 1937 to 1944 he was also a member of the faculty at Aquinas and St. Francis School of Nursing. From 1938 to 1940 he was part-time assistant at Blessed Sacrament Parish, La Crosse. He has been connected with the Matrimonial Tribunal of the diocese since 1939, first as Promoter of Justice and since 1943 as OFFICIALIS

DEDICATION

I am delighted to know that the theme of this year's TRUMPET is the story of Our Lady of Fatima. My fondest hope would be that every pair of eyes that sees your yearbook will be inspired to read the story of the apparitions of Our Blessed Lady to the three little children at the Cova da Iria. If you will read this story, you cannot help being led to Jesus through Mary.

"Pray," says Our Dear Lady to the children. "Say your rosary; learn to practice true repentance." May you be led to heed this admonition, and may you also be the means through whom others may be led to Jesus through Mary.

Bishop of La Crosse

The Most Reverend John Patrick Treacy, S.T.D., son of John and Anne Margaret Treacy, was born July 23, 1891, in Marlboro, Massachusetts.

His Excellency attended the preparatory school of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Massachusetts, and was graduated from the Catholic University, 1912. After completing his seminary course at St. John's, Boston, he was ordained to the priesthood by the Most Reverend John Patrick Farrelly, Cleveland, Ohio, December 8, 1918.

After serving as assistant pastor in St. Mary's, Akron, Ohio, and St. Luke's, Cleveland, Ohio, Bishop Treacy was named Diocesan Director of the Propagation of the Faith and Assistant Chancellor of the Diocese of Cleveland, a position he held for fourteen years.

He was consecrated Coadjutor Bishop of La Crosse, October 2, 1945, and appointed Ordinary of the Diocese, July 23, 1946.

DEUS CARITAS

The tremendous challenge of our times demands more than an external performance of duty; it demands a personal excellence which carries with it a deep sense of one's responsibility for bringing into the mainstream of life the major truths which alone can guarantee peace for the individual and for all men. This personal excellence — spiritual, intellectual, social, and physical — is the objective of Catholic education.

In the attainment of this objective, Mary stands as your perfect model and ideal. Whether you engage in business, social, religious, or domestic life, if you "go her way," your living will approach that excellence which your Catholic education aimed to achieve. In this way you may hope to meet the challenge the world presents and accomplish your part in the betterment of all mankind.

Father Kundinger

THE VERY REVEREND JOSEPH A. KUNDINGER
Headmaster of Aquinas High School

In the general office filed in a gray storage cabinet is your high school record. Some of it was entered before you came to Aquinas; most of it, during your four years at school. There are test results, attendance data, anecdotal reports, personality ratings, an autobiography, and other vital statistics constituting your "profile." It is of vital significance and serves as a key to your past, present, and future.

Whatever the pattern of this picture or silhouette which grew during these years, we hope that there is another "profile" which you carry along with you as you receive your diploma. It is the ideal which Aquinas tried to give you. It is the picture of a composite Aquinas student with Christ and His Mother Mary as the Master Pattern; a student orientated to Him Who is the Light of the World. It is the articulate Catholic for which the world is looking today — one whose actions are based on the principles which you have learned in a thousand ways while at Aquinas.

May you never lose sight of that "profile" which you have been taught to treasure, so that when the records of eternity are opened, you may have a straight "A" in the most important subject — your salvation. Even though you may not have made the upper third of your class, you have every chance to make a top rating, for this is the real commencement with no ending. God love you. See you in heaven.

THE REVEREND THOMAS J. HALLORAN
Diocesan Superintendent of Schools

The Reverend Thomas J. Halloran, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools, has a liberal education and experiential background. After graduating from Vernon County Rural Normal School, Viroqua, Wisconsin, he earned a B.E. degree in secondary education at the State Teachers' College, Platteville, Wisconsin. He received a B.A. degree at Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and an M.A. in education at the Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

Following several years' experience as teacher and principal of rural state graded and public high schools in Wisconsin, he acted as supervisor of public schools in Crawford County.

Upon the completion of his theological studies in the Sulpician Seminary at the Catholic University, he worked successively at St. Patrick's Parish, Eau Claire; St. Mary, Richland Center; and St. Jerome, Wonewoc. In 1946 Father Halloran was appointed to his present position.

Council of Administration

THE COUNCIL OF ADMINISTRATION of Aquinas is a committee of pastors and parish lay representatives appointed by His Excellency to manage certain temporalities of the school and to work out a financial plan for the support of the school.

THE AQUINAS GUILD is the oldest auxiliary of Aquinas. It is the Parent-Teacher organization with all the objectives and goals which such an organization implies.

PARISH REPRESENTATIVES constitute the executive committee of the Guild. To achieve the purposes of the Guild more adequately, each parish sending a large number of students to Aquinas is represented by two lay persons.

THE AQUINAS BOOSTER CLUB has as its major project the support of athletics in the school. Its loyalty and spirit has been a great help in many other school movements.

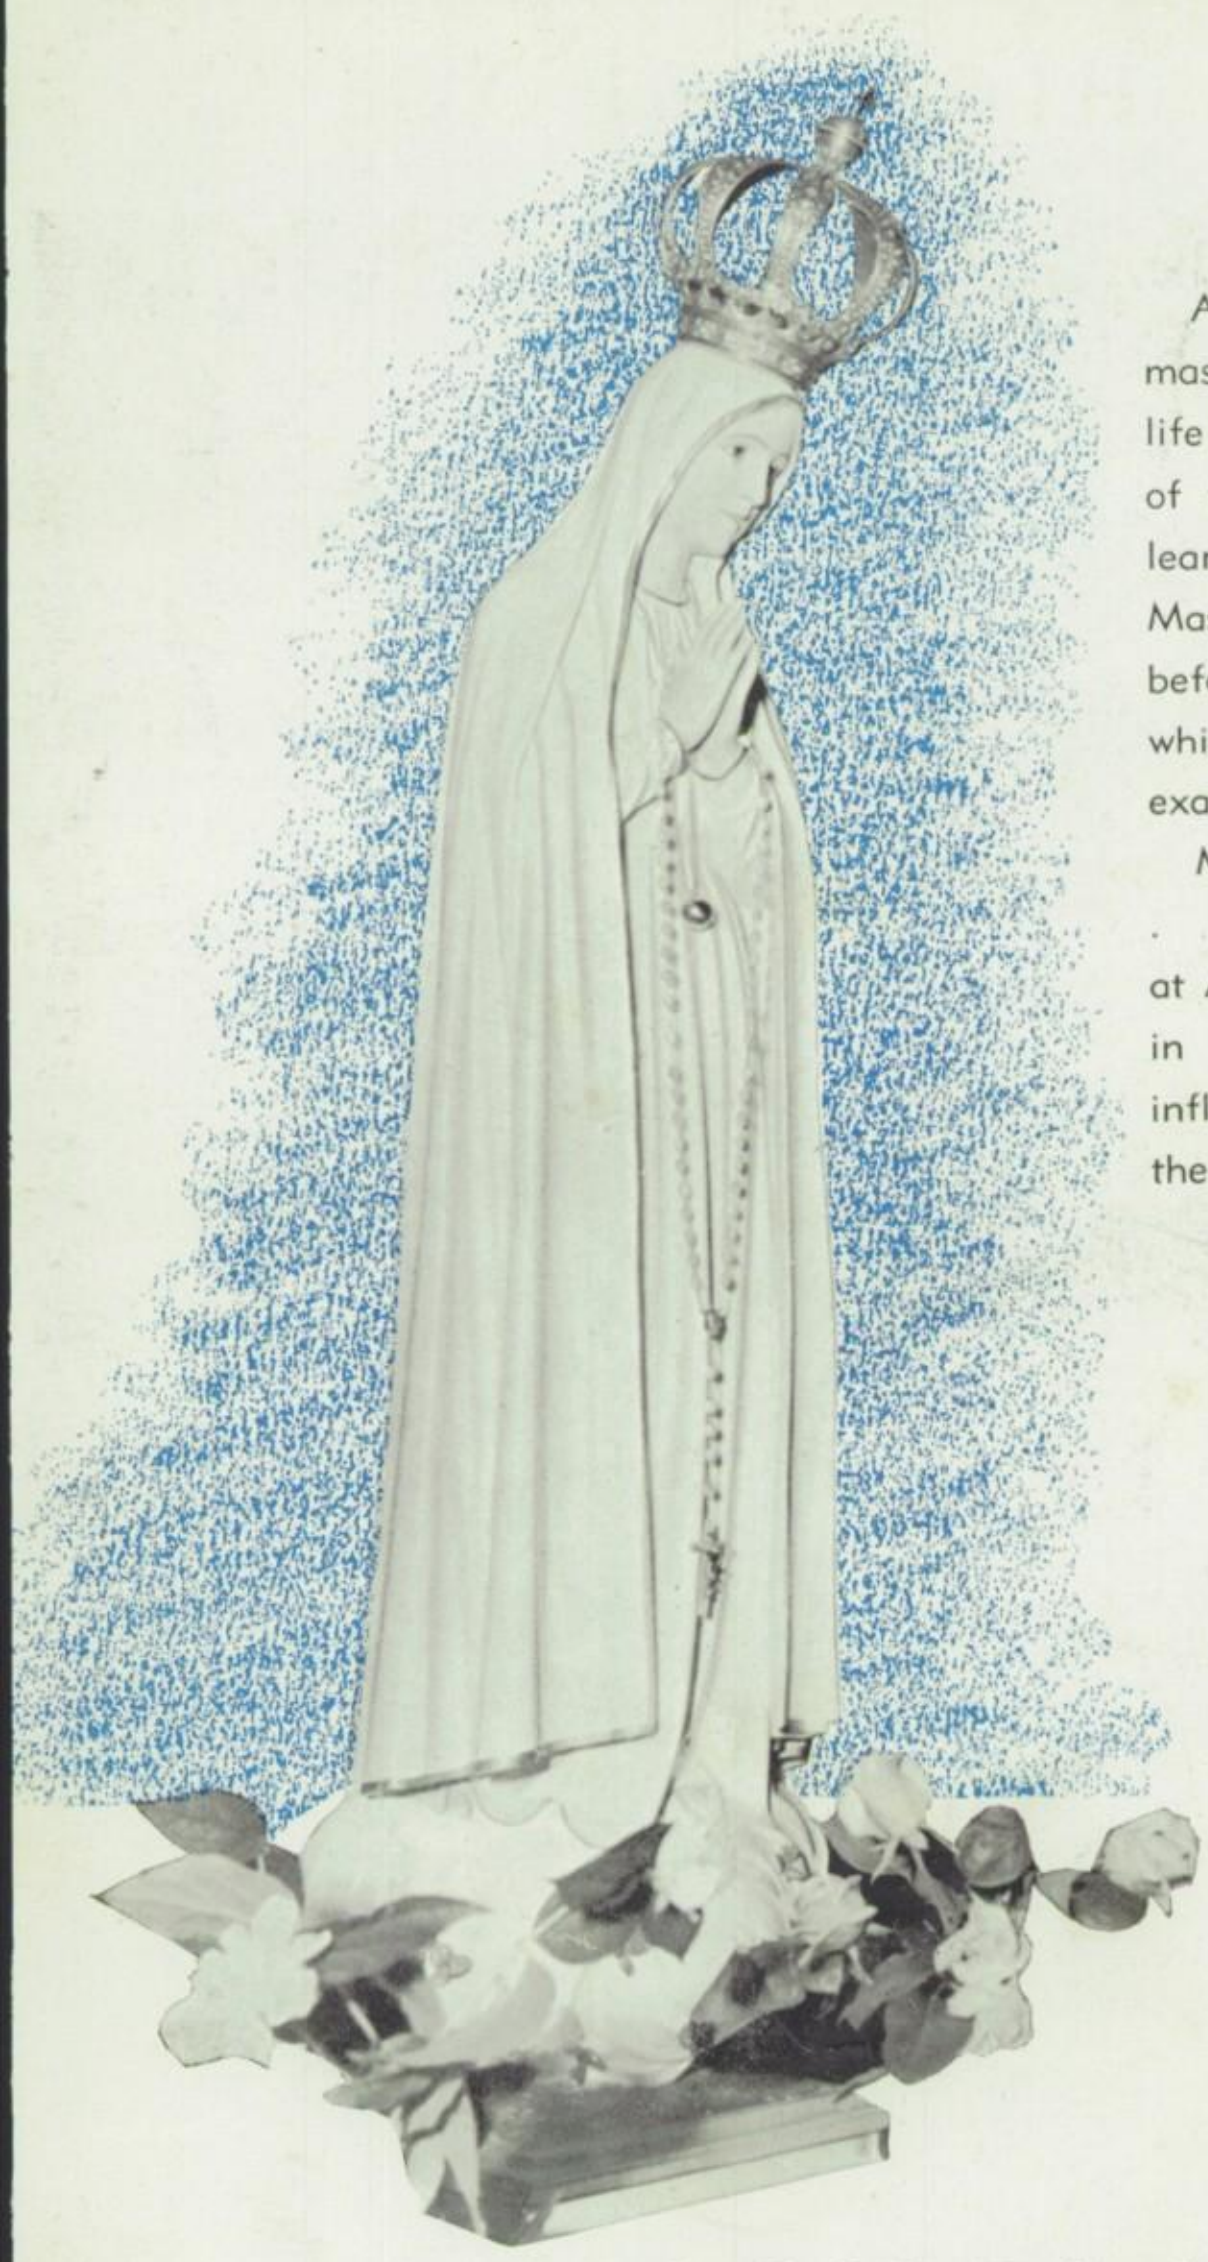
AQUINAS HIGH SCHOOL

Almost twenty years ago 157 young La Crosse Catholics stepped hopefully to the doors of the newly-established Aquinas High School and began their education according to the principles laid down by fundamental need and Christianity. Four years later that beginning group emerged from the school as graduates. It was the dawn of a new day.

To the late Most Reverend Alexander James McGavick it was a dream come true. He had conceived the early hope that La Crosse area Catholics might reasonably have, and support a school founded on their faith. His hope of an educational institution for young Catholics had materialized as Aquinas High School.

Today ninety per cent of all La Crosse area Catholic pupils of high school age attend Aquinas — strong testimonial of the dream come true. The student body now numbers 912, and Aquinas has grown to become the fourth largest Catholic high school in Wisconsin.



At Aquinas we have endeavored to master the most important lesson of life — like Mary, to follow the light of truth that never sets. We have learned her confidence from daily Mass and Holy Communion, the rosary before her image at noon, the hurriedly whispered prayer before semester examinations.

Mary, teach us to GO YOUR WAY . . . to live the truths taught us at Aquinas . . . to center our lives in your Son . . . to be strong influences in society . . . to become the "salt of the earth."

The quorum of senior Latin students, attired in tunics and togas, express their thumbs-down veto of Catiline in favor of Cicero. The downcast Catiline, portrayed by Thomas Ritter, has lost favor with the scribe, Donald Gallagher. Quorum members left to right are Beverly Zanter and Mary Kay Maney, not yet sure of their vote, Bernard Nintemann, Karl Leinfelder, William Blazewicz, Patricia Platz, Loretta Coughlin, and Gregory Ziegelmaier.

Amid decorations harmonizing with the theme, "Moonlight and Roses," the '49 Junior Prom was ruled by King James Jirsa and his chosen queen, Jean Zirbes. The largest court in the history of social events at Aquinas consisted of Thomas Sinninger and Annette Kelly, Charles Skemp and Monna Pederson, William Servais and Barbara Bracken, John Alexander and Rita Eeg, Thomas Murphy and Maureen Goggin, Myron Peterson and Mary Ziegelmaier, Theodore Lapitz and Mary Lou Schaper, Gregory Ziegelmaier and Loretta Flanagan, James Zanter and Jean Horschak, James Rudolph and Marian Cermak, Gilbert Haberman and Constance Sikorski.

Library workers for this year have been many and efficient. Grouped around the desk are Betty Murphy, Phyllis Redig, Mary Ferris, Joan Mueller, Ann Funk, Janet Johnson, Lois Liston, Caroline Wolle, Kathryn Ferris, Patricia Kubiak, Dorothy Bernatz, and Jude Rand. Seated are Nola Noel and Patricia Mezera.

SENIOR'S DAY IN THE FORENOON

Bright and early Geraldine Kundinger sheds her coat and deposits books in her locker before going to chapel where capable usher Manford Knutson finds a place for John Alexander who regularly attends Mass at Aquinas. Myron Peterson is oblivious as he concentrates on the ceremony before him.

Later, in the main office Patricia Krueger receives an absentee slip from Ray Staszak and proceeds to history class where Carol Sexauer, Margaret Kotinek, Robert Grabinski, Philip Skaff, and Raymond Dwyer hold an informal discussion. Rita Knapmiller and Patricia Mezera do reference work in the library.

SENIOR'S DAY IN THE AFTERNOON

The candid shot at the upper right shows Jane Klein selling a Bar-B-Que to her sister Ina Mae, an everyday ritual in the school cafeteria. Marian Cermak and Albert Funk sell school supplies from the store to Therese Shedesky, Donald Doucet, and Robert Peshak.

Time out for a prayer — Ellen Grams whispers a Hail Mary as Rosemary Gilles lights a vigil lamp. Barbara Conway assumes the role of discussion leader in eighth period civics while in American history class Janet Miller hands a report to Sister Clementa. After school Walter Hilby, St. Joseph Ridge bus driver and student, flashes a smile at our cameraman, as Anthony Gerhard, another Ridge dweller, looks on. "The end of a perfect day."

ALL IN A DAY'S WORK

Art students, Nancy Freeburn, Rita Poehling, and Patricia Senn, display their handiwork on the bulletin board, while in the typing room, Carol Sexauer and Lorraine McQuillen learn to change typewriter ribbons. Home economics students Patricia and Darlene Hegenbarth admire the aprons made by the class, and Rita Meyers and Barbara Wieland finish others.

Chemistry students, Philip Skaff, Mary Mezera, and Charles Runningen, are confronted with the problems of analyses. Down the corridor in room 315 Philip Roraff and Patricia Coon assist Anthony VanErt and Mary Lou Mosser as they mount species of leaves. Speech student, Nola Noel, tests the modulation of her voice on the tape recorder, and in the art room Robert Freisinger puts the finishing touches on his bookends while Thomas Snyder examines Donald Puent's finished product.

LAUGH TIME

Everything from Shakespeare to juggling, concert pianists to rope tricks, and a husband and wife singing team to an RCA Victor artist was featured on the Aquinas stage this year in a series of cultural and entertaining assemblies.

The first of the professional programs was a piano concert of classical music given by Mrs. Ann Abeln of Chicago in October. The same month was rounded out with the appearance of Miss Marie Houston, internationally known soprano, radio, and RCA Victor artist who brought with her colorful costumes of Mexico and South America. Pictured with her at the bottom right are seniors Rosemary Gilles, Rita Knapmiller, and Delores Gerke who served as models.

In the next few months Colonel Larson of La Crosse featured his rope tricks and amateur photography. Carl Olson provided a sparkling assembly with his quick juggling and quicker wit. The Catholic University Players version of "Much Ado About Nothing" gave most Aquinas students their first taste of professional Shakespeare.

Our spiritual activities at Aquinas have shown us the way to follow Mary long after our school days are ended. We have found a way of absolute security illuminated by her who is called the Morning Star. Mary has shown us a way of life that is filled with happiness and peace; a way of hope that will lead to the open portals of an eternal dawn.

MASS SERVERS

Firmly convinced that the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the most vital act of the day, Aquinites have the privilege of attending daily Mass in the Aquinas Chapel with the Reverend Peter Eiden as celebrant.

GOLDEN MASS

The Mass of Ember Wednesday in Advent is traditionally known as the Golden Mass. It has become the school's real Christmas Program. At the Offertory of this Mass, the entire student body in procession brings its offerings of canned foods, clothing, and personal gifts to God's altar. No one knows how the term "Golden Mass" originated, but everyone agrees that the term which reminds us of something valuable and beautiful is appropriate.

It was the custom in the earlier days for the Christians to bring gifts for this Mass and offer them personally to God at the Offertory. Jerome Sweeney, senior class president, and Charles Skemp, president of the Aquinas Council of Student Affairs, led the solemn procession to the altar steps bearing the wine.

The Reverend Stephen Anderl, former faculty member introduced the custom at Aquinas and was celebrant of the Solemn High Mass this year. The gifts of the 912 participating students were packed and sent to the poor at home and in various mission fields in this country.

Above is a shot of the Junior Benevolent Society members who were in charge of classifying and distributing the presents. Rosemary Fransen and Loretta Coughlin are separating while Mary Kay Maney and Therese Shedesky arrange the gifts in boxes.

MARY, WE CROWN THEE!

On May 7, 1949, over 900 students of Aquinas High School crowded St. Joseph's Cathedral to pay homage to their Mother and Queen, the Blessed Virgin Mary. The occasion for this large gathering was the annual May crowning ceremony at which time the '49 May Queen, Joan Karew, placed the wreath of flowers upon the statue of Our Blessed Mother and acclaimed her "Mary, Queen of May."

At the left is the picture of the newly crowned Virgin and beneath is the picture of His Excellency, the Most Reverend John P. Treacy, who presided at the traditional religious event and delivered an address to the students and faculty. The entire ceremony consisted of the crowning of the Virgin, an address by the guest speaker, and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

Eleven years ago a small group of Aquinas girls, inspired by Dorothy Day, organized a society which has as its objective, the giving of aid to underprivileged families. As a result, the Junior Benevolent Society has become one of the outstanding organizations at Aquinas. Its members strive to promote the spiritual and material welfare of the individual families assigned to them. Annual Halloween and Christmas parties, monthly visits to the families, the direction of the Golden Mass, and a tea at St. Joseph Home of the Aged are some of the activities.

Every year at Christmas time the traditional star sheds its rays over the Christmas crib and brightens the corner of Cameron and West Avenue Streets. The rays reach farther than the confines of the manger and adorers. They touch the soul of every passerby, whether he be an Aquinite, a workingman, or a child. And they carry with them a message — the message of Christ's birth, of man's rebirth, and of the reawakening of joy and hope in the world.

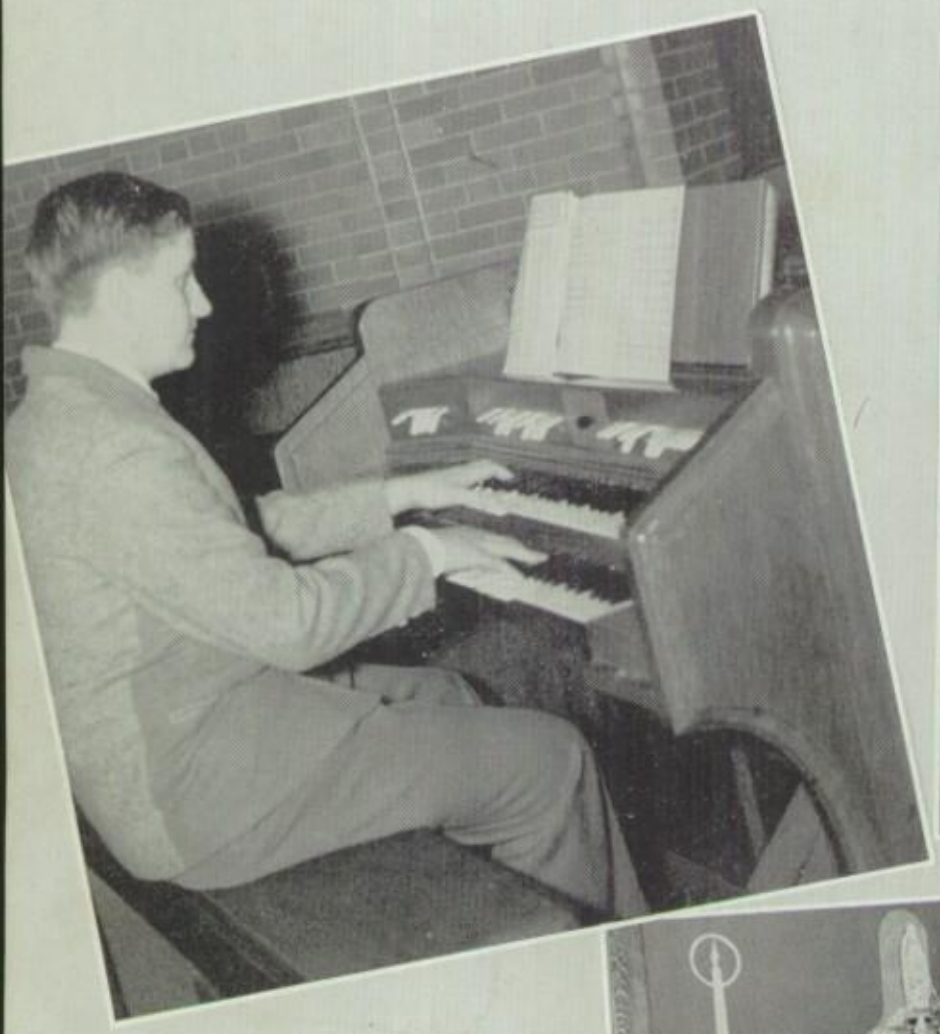
The annual Winter Concert, dedicated this year to the Pilgrim Virgin, was among one of the best offered by Aquinas, in a long line of outstanding musical programs. The concert featured the 115-voice choir, the junior choir, the freshmen and sophomore girls' and boys' glee clubs, and the smaller groups, the Triple Trio and the Discords. The picture at the right portrays Susan Opitz as the Virgin Mother who inspired the overall theme of the concert. From the Aquinas stage she reigned over the candlelight procession of choristers.

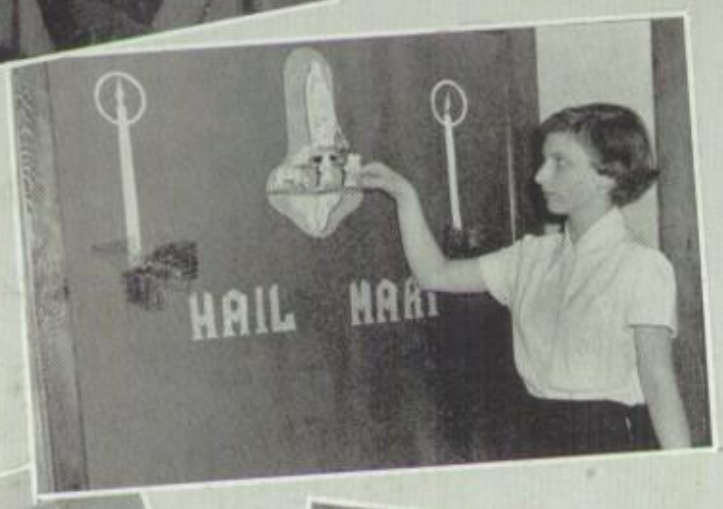
This pose is from the student Christmas program which consisted of a series of tableaux set to music. The story of Christ's birth was enacted by Janice Mader as Mary, Alice Engelhard as the angel, and William Servais as St. Joseph. The Christmas program of '49 was one of the most spiritually refreshing presented on the Aquinas stage and was excellently received by the student body.

CATHOLICITY IN ACTION

The expert quality of sophomore Thomas Smith's organ music made an impression on the minds of Aquinites that remained long after they had left the auditorium. In the top left picture Thomas is shown demonstrating his skill. The Reverend Stephen Anderl, Golden Mass celebrant, distributes Holy Communion to Colette Ritter and Nola Noel, while Shirley Mashak waits her turn. Senior Joan Allen pauses for a moment before one of the Lady of Fatima statues which were installed in every homeroom this year.

The Right Reverend Monsignor George A. Hammes opened the 1949 September term of school with the offering of High Mass. This pose of seniors on adoration day was caught shortly after school opened. Students are Richard Yost, Robert Grabinski, Charles Skemp, Donald Galiagher, Bette Lewinski, Lorraine Kavanaugh, Janet Fiebig, and Jean Horschak. Retreat masters, the Reverend Albert Roemer, the Reverend Alfred Hebert, the Reverend Joseph Bach pose with His Excellency, the Most Reverend John P. Treacy, and the Reverend James Finucan, secretary to His Excellency, after the Solemn High Mass which terminated the retreat.





We have learned at Aquinas to seek Mary as a model. We were inspired to imitate Mary, the Mystical Rose . . . Mary, the Lily of Whiteness . . . Mary, the singing lyre whose Rosary and Magnificat will ever lift our souls heavenward, inspiring us to sanctify each activity of life.

Going Her Way

SOCIALLY

BEHIND THE SCENES

A major responsibility of any dramatic production rests on the stage crew, the designers, the make-up artists, and the general workers. Pictured, building the stairway for the operetta are Robert Sullivan, James Soller, William Gilster, Lynn Schneyer, and Giles Flanagan.

At the right the wardrobe mistresses are busy with some last minute costuming. Jean Hutzenbuehler cuts the material while Joan Phelps fits a costume on Ellen Grams, and Loretta Coughlin hems Naughty Marietta's party dress.

Student director, Ruth Lund, briefs the actors as Beverly Kulas, business manager, looks on. Effective projected lighting for the dramatic production proved a well-met challenge to electricians, Peter Schaettle and Clement Bott. Able make-up artists apply grease paint to members of the cast.

CURTAIN TIME

In observance of Armistice Day, the Drama Department presented "They Also Serve," a choric dramatization in which forty voices were blended. Portraying the musty historians were Ronald Abicht and James Temp.

The next production of the year was "The Romancers," a satire on romantic notions, particularly on the Romeo and Juliet angle. The comedy was prepared for the district and state one-act play contest. Pictured in a scene from this play are Betty Lewinski and Charles Skemp, the young lovers who are separated by a garden wall. Also from the cast are Jack Cagney and Gregory Ziegelmaier, the grim fathers, and Frederick Simones, the dramatic fencing master.

"The Romancers" was also entered in the Second Annual One-Act Play Festival held at Aquinas on February 18. The festival, associated with the Catholic Theater Conference, was under the direction of Sister Marie Leon. Bette Lewinski of Aquinas, Bruce Cody of Campion Academy, and Shirley Meleski of St. Joseph Academy, Stevens Point, pose with their trophies awarded for the best acting of the day.

LUTE SONG

"Lute Song," the colorful and realistic ancient Chinese morality play, was the major production of the Drama Department this year. The classic, which was presented February 11 and 12 at the Vocational auditorium, centers around a Chinese youth who entrusts his wife to the keeping of his revered parents while he goes to the capital to seek his fortune.

A cast of 65 found the presentation of this Chinese play a genuine challenge. Adapted for acting in 1404, it has since enjoyed continuous favor in the Chinese theater, with a stature equal to that accorded "Hamlet" on the Western stage.

"Lute Song" finds its greatness in the profound lesson it has brought home to countless audiences. The fidelity of a husband and wife and a daughter's filial piety towards her parents furnish the theme of the drama.

TUNING UP

Students of all music groups of Aquinas High School, but especially orchestra members, spent long hours of preparation for the highlight of the first semester's musical performance, the Winter Concert. The orchestra, at the peak of its ability, presented to music lovers in the La Crosse area a program rich in various modern and classical selections.

Tuning up before curtain time is the string quartet composed of Alice Engelhard, Shirlee Knutson, Barbara Desmond, and Lois Houlihan. Another quartet, famous in its own right is the clarinet quartet. Members are Anthony Solberg, Robert Virnig, Barbara Bennett, and James Havlicek. The lower pictures are cross sections of the orchestra snapped during the performance.

The Winter Concert has two main purposes: to give the music groups an opportunity to show their ability, and to give La Crosse music lovers an enjoyable evening.

SOUSA - TIME

The lively music heard at basketball games and at pep assemblies is furnished by the Aquinas Pep Band. Included in the group are standing, Herbert Snyder, Mary Schachinger, Charles McCabe, Rose Mary Fransen, Jack Finley, and Donald Gilles; seated, John Kane, Therese Shedesky, Raymond Dwyer, and Thomas Klein.

Catherine Schmitt, Caroline Wolle, Joyce Winter, and Mary Louise Liskovec, the music librarian staff, check over the music folders in preparation for class.

Marietta, Bette Lewinski, lower right, dressed in her wedding dress, listens to Captain Dick sing, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life," and realizes that he loves her. Marietta, who is ever haunted by an unfinished dream melody, has been told that only he shall claim her heart who will have the power to sing the answer to her song. She has repeatedly asked Captain Dick at least to try, but he is consistently indifferent. Finally, he finishes her melody, whereupon she returns his love and all ends happily.

Boom, Aye!' - - - Naughty Marietta

Dancers, flower girls, and casquette girls sit around the fountain in the garden making plans for the ball. As they happily discuss the gala affair, they do not anticipate the coming events of an auction, a capture, and a wedding. Pictured there are Therese Potaracke, French dancer; Rita Knothe, Spanish dancer; Rita Knapmiller, casquette girl; and Nancy Larson, flower girl.

Opposite them, Sir Harry Blake, Richard Yost; Annette, Marilyn Garrity, Felice, Ruth Lund; and Fanchon, Mary Volz, watch closely as Rudolpho, Gregory Ziegelmaier, "pulla de marionetta." However, in his profession, Rudolpho finds that his troubles have begun when he innocently consented to accept Marietta, disguised as his missing son.

At the lower right, Captain Dick escorts lovely Marietta, Janice Mader, into the ballroom. Marietta is a fiery little Italian, disguised as a casquette girl who ran away from home to join the girls of marriageable age who were sent by the King of France to the French settlement in New Orleans. Here Marietta meets Captain Richard Warrington, Herbert Virnig, who befriends her. After meeting with many rebuffs and disappointments, she finally falls in love with him.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

From the Aquinas Music Department this year emerged three notable groups, each of which had something a little different from the other, and each of which was excellent in its field. Pictured at the top are the famed Discords, a quartet with music sung in barbershop style. Catching a sweet note are Theodore Lapitz, Herbert Virnig, Raymond Gantenbein, and David Brieske.

The second group is the Boys' Double Quartet, which is composed of the Discords and four additional voices. This group made its debut at the Winter Concert. Left to right are Theodore Lapitz, Gregory Ziegelmaier, Herbert Virnig, Raymond Gantenbein, Richard Yost, Charles Skemp, David Brieske, and Jack Kelly. Directed by Sister Vivian, this group practices during homeroom period.

The third group, the feminine counterpart of the Discords, is known as the Triple Trio. This homeroom practicing group which made its debut in the Winter Concert, is composed of outstanding upperclass vocalists. Trio members from the top step are Therese Potaracke, Bette Lewinski, Lucille Breidel, Lucille Reinhard, Mary Volz, Janice Mader, Loretta Flanagan, Barbara Bennett, Suzanne Opitz, and Dolores Gerke. Under the direction of Sister Juliana, the Triple Trio flourished and entertained numerous clubs and conventions.

HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Amid crowds of cheering spectators, Aquinas celebrated its fourth annual Homecoming on September 30, climaxing the game with a supper and a dance. Queen of this year's festivities was Monna Pederson, choice of the student body, who in turn chose Charles Skemp as her King. Miss Kathleen Nekola, '48 Queen, crowned Monna at the halftime ceremonies at Memorial Field. The beautiful ceremony was highlighted by the arch, formed of court members, singing "Queen of the Rosary" to the music of the Aquinas Band.

DEBATE - RESOLVED . . .

THAT THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES SHOULD BE ELECTED BY THE DIRECT VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

This year's debate squads, both junior and senior divisions, literally brought home the laurels. The most notable event of this season for the juniors was the Catholic State tournament held at Marquette University High School. The Aquinas freshmen team composed of David Murphy, William McKillip, Roy Pearse, and Howard Erickson brought home the trophy, not only for the most wins, but also for the best freshman team entered in the meet.

The record of the senior division debaters is also something to emulate. Their scoring for the season was twenty wins to fourteen losses, a creditable showing.

THE AQUINAS NEWS

Here's the latest scoop on who's who! Rush to the printer! Meet the deadline! No matter what time of the day one passes room 213, someone is always busily at work. Diligence is the staff's watchword as they struggle to meet deadlines staring them in the face. The seniors wearied by perpetual pencil pushing, received a respite about mid-term when the juniors assumed the responsibility with Charles Buelow and Gerald Downey as Co-editors.

The policy of THE AQUINAS NEWS is twofold: To inform the students of school activities and to inculcate Catholic living in the members of the student body.

Honor came to the publications department when an announcement was made by Dean J. L. O'Sullivan of the College of Journalism, Marquette University, that THE AQUINAS NEWS was rated as one of the ten leading Catholic high school newspapers in the country for '49-'50.

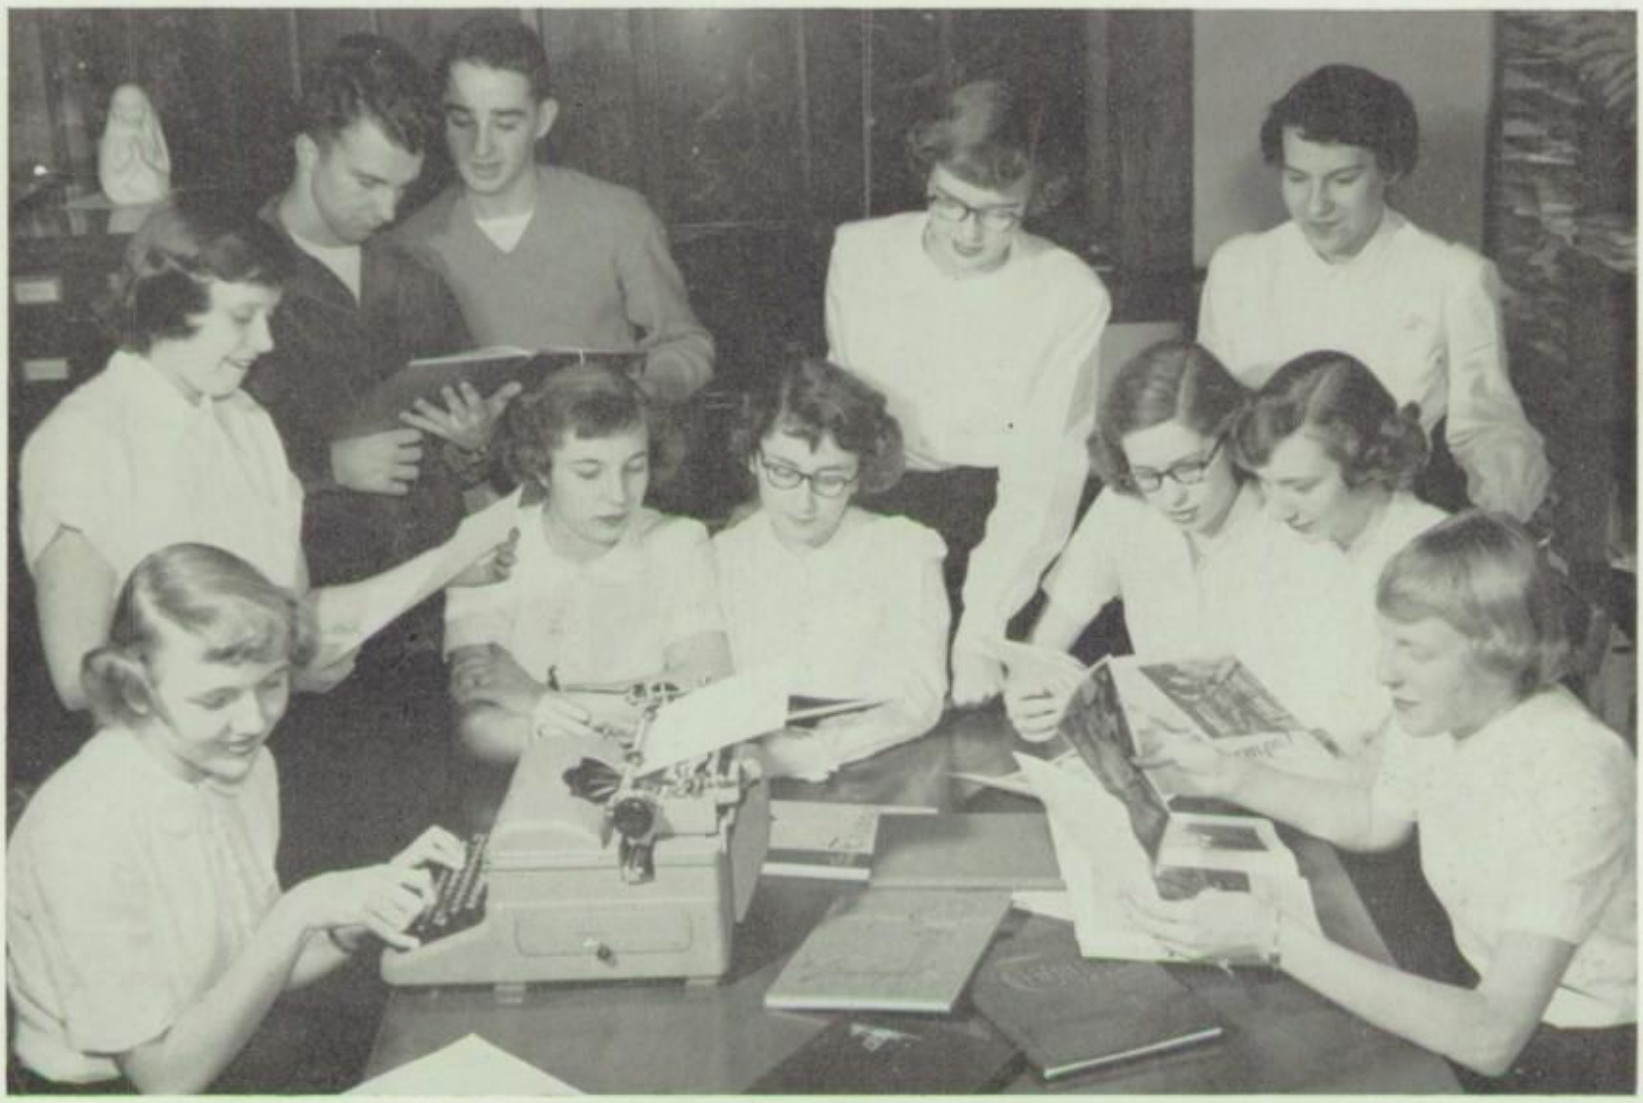
THE TRUMPET



Constance Sikorski is typing copy for THE TRUMPET, while Jane Pavela and Mary Volz confer on the layout of the dummy. Arlene Larkin, Donna Korpal, and Laraine Sokolik examine pictures to be sent to the engraver. Standing are Mary Ziegelmaier, Peter Schaettle, and Jerome Sweeney glancing at last year's book, while editors Jane Daley and Jean Horschak look pleased at the results of the staff's initial labors.

Happy and relaxed, the staff of THE '50 TRUMPET saw the year of work sent to the printer for final preparation. It was their privilege to be able to work on the yearbook and watch it grow from a dummy copy to the refined '50 TRUMPET.

As every spoke in a wheel gives it added stability, so every member of the staff has given his support in the production of the book. Although challenged with many difficulties, editors met the deadlines satisfactorily.

Actual work on THE TRUMPET commenced in October and continued until May 1. Long hours of labor went into producing this log of events of the school year.

It is the sincere wish of the staff that in future years, when recalling days gone by, this book will provide a pleasant and accurate account of the four years spent at Aquinas High School.

Our Lady's knights met with stiff competition, but they learned to accept both gains and losses in her spirit. Just as they did in the short prayer said before the big games and during the half-times, they will continue to turn to her always. They will GO HER WAY of life on the spiritual path of victory even though there are hurdles to cross in the game of life. Only through Mary can we overcome the powers of darkness that block our way to the goal line.

FOOTBALL SEASON

The Aquinas Blugolds began the long grind to an undefeated, untied season, meeting a big highly-rated St. Augustine team from Austin, Minnesota. Displaying a vicious ground attack and a stalwart defense, the Blue and Gold walked off the field the victors by a 31-0 count.

Following another week of rugged practice, Coach Michuta's gridders tangled with McDonell of Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. Here again the 'Golds unleashed a strong attack to run over the opposition, 19-0.

Logan provided the next test for this high-riding Aquinas machine. An altogether different defensive style completely halted the Northsiders as they fell before the Blugolds,

Dear Kent,
Good luck.
Take it easy.
See you in August.

Dear John:

I should like to express my most sincere congratulations to you and to the members of your fine team for the marvelous record you have attained during the past season. Knowing fully the necessity of having men of high calibre to bring any team the city championship I have the utmost admiration for the members of this year's Aquinas team. All of the players have a great deal to be proud of, as the success achieved by them is a direct reflection on their willingness to make sacrifices and pay the price of victory.

Sincerely
Frank Leahy

27-7. This victory gave Aquinas an edge in the intra-city race.

A touchdown in the last thirty seconds gave the Aquinas boys a 12-6 verdict over Edgewood. After a slow start the 'Golds opened up when the going was tough to push over that all-important six points.

Invading Cotter in neighboring Winona, Minnesota, the Michutamen unfurled a tremendous scoring punch to overwhelm the Ramblers, 46-14.

With an intra-city championship in mind, the Blue and Gold put their all into the next game. The foe was Aquinas' southside rival, Central. Again the Michutamen continued to win, this time by a 26-6 count.

The Blugolds spoiled St. Pat's homecoming game with an impressive 52-12 verdict over the outclassed Irish squad at Eau Claire, Wisconsin, to gain their seventh straight decision.

A keyed-up Campion Academy eleven were ready for the invading Blugolds and held them to a 6-6 half-time count. In the second half the Blugolds pushed over two touchdowns to win 18-6.

The next opposition for the winning team was an undefeated squad from Loras Academy, Dubuque, Iowa. This was to be the game of the year for both schools, as each wanted that much desired perfect season.

Loras displayed an outstanding running attack and moved to a 19-6 edge in the closing moments of the contest. But Aquinas urged by an unseen spark scored two touchdowns in the last two minutes to squeeze out that one final contest, giving Aquinas Blugolds an unblemished record.

Coach John Michuta checks out equipment to grid hopefuls Dick Skaff, Don Gilbert, Dave Weldy, Arlyn Wilder, Bill Shuda, and Duke Coughlin.

Chuck Skemp, Jim Temp, Manny Knutson, and Duke Coughlin congratulate Whitey Skaff who place-kicked the winning point of the Loras game, giving Aquinas an undefeated, untied grid season.

This year Aquinas enjoyed the greatest grid season of its history with a record of nine wins and no setbacks. Rated at the beginning of the year as an "underdog," the Blugolds rose to become one of the top prep squads in the state.

YEA

1. Jim Kelly — 5' 9", 165 lbs., quarterback.
   As an alert signal caller and sharp ball handler, Jim displayed beautiful deception off the "T" formation.
2. Jim Rudolph — 5' 9", 152 lbs., center.
   This boy filled the holes in the line, playing his best ball when the chips were down.
3. Jim Temp — 6' 3", 200 lbs., end.
   "Dumbo," as his size implies, was the biggest boy in the line-up. The opponents found him rugged and ready whenever they swept his end.
4. Chuck Skemp — 5' 8", 155 lbs., right halfback.
   Chuck, although the smallest backfield man, displayed brilliance in the running department, eating up yardage on every try.
5. Tom Sinninger — 5' 8", 170 lbs., guard.
   This rugged guard displayed unusual ability at throwing the opposition for huge losses.
6. Dick Pouzar — 5' 8", 155 lbs., tackle.
   A top performer at all times, Whitey overcame the toughest opponents with his rugged blocking and line play.
7. Bill Servais — 5'10", 185 lbs., tackle.
   A strong line man, Bill hit his peak in mid-season, turning the tide in the Campion game by recovering an important fumble.
8. Dave McPeak — 5' 11", 180 lbs., tackle.
   Many times the opposition was stopped cold by this rugged tackle, who would not stay down.
9. Tom Bruha — 5' 9", 150 lbs., halfback.
   This speedy back used deception in picking his way through the line. Once in the open, he was a hard man to stop.
10. Joe Bakalars — 5' 10", 175 lbs., tackle.
    Fast and tough, Joe liked contact work. He was a demon on defense and a crack downfield blocker.
11. Al Freybler — 5' 9", 170 lbs., tackle.
    He was one of the most alert defensive linemen on the team, stopping deception plays with unusual ability.
12. Jim Skaff — 5' 9", 170 lbs., halfback.
    Whitey not only kicked the crucial extra points for Aquinas, but also was a main cog on both defense and offense.
13. James Kelly — 5' 9", 165 lbs., quarterback.
    Jim may have passed like a quarterback, but to see him run one would think he were a halfback.
14. Bill Shuda — 5' 10", 180 lbs., fullback.
    Bill charged the line with vicious thrusts, bursting through for long gains.
15. Mike Skemp — 5' 10", 175 lbs., fullback.
    He was a hard runner, possessing both drive and speed. This rugged fullback had uncanny accuracy in his passing.
16. Bob Gilbert — 6', 170 lbs., end.
    No doubt Bob was the most capable pass receiver on the team. He played brilliant offense and defense.
17. Duke Coughlin — 5' 9", 145 lbs., guard.
    "Dynamite Duke," "small but mighty," describes this powerful guard, who played exceptional ball against men twice his size.

RAH! RAH! TO OUR STATE CHAMPS

The Aquinas basketball aggregation captured the coveted All-State Catholic Title for the second successive year, to become the first five-time winner of the crown. The Blugolds displaying a well-balanced team invaded the VanDyke arena as heavy favorites.

Fan followers were impressed with the Aquinas quintet's brilliant play and smooth offensive. The scoring was evenly balanced, and the team worked as a unit, with each player a star.

The Blugolds proceeded to roll over their rivals by generous scores. Their first victim was St. Catherine's of Racine, which went down to defeat before the scoring power of the Blue and Gold, 73-49, believed to be a new tournament record. Pius XI High School of Milwaukee was the next victim which was routed to the tune of 67-29. This victory gave the Blugolds a crack at the title.

Warren Delagrave, 5' 10", guard, achieved fame with his long one-hand push shot.

Mike Skemp, 5' 11", guard, a classy performer at all times, headed the team's scoring power.

Myron Peterson, 6' 2", forward, supplied the height necessary under the buckets to control the boards.

INTRA-CITY CHAMPS

Defeating their local opponents by large margins, the Aquinas Blugolds have again captured the intra-city crown. The Michutamen started the ball rolling by trouncing Logan, 65-41. Next, they romped over Central, 52-31. Then the Aquinas cage quintet wrapped up the title with consecutive wins over Logan and Central with the scores of 59-40 and 53-38, respectively.

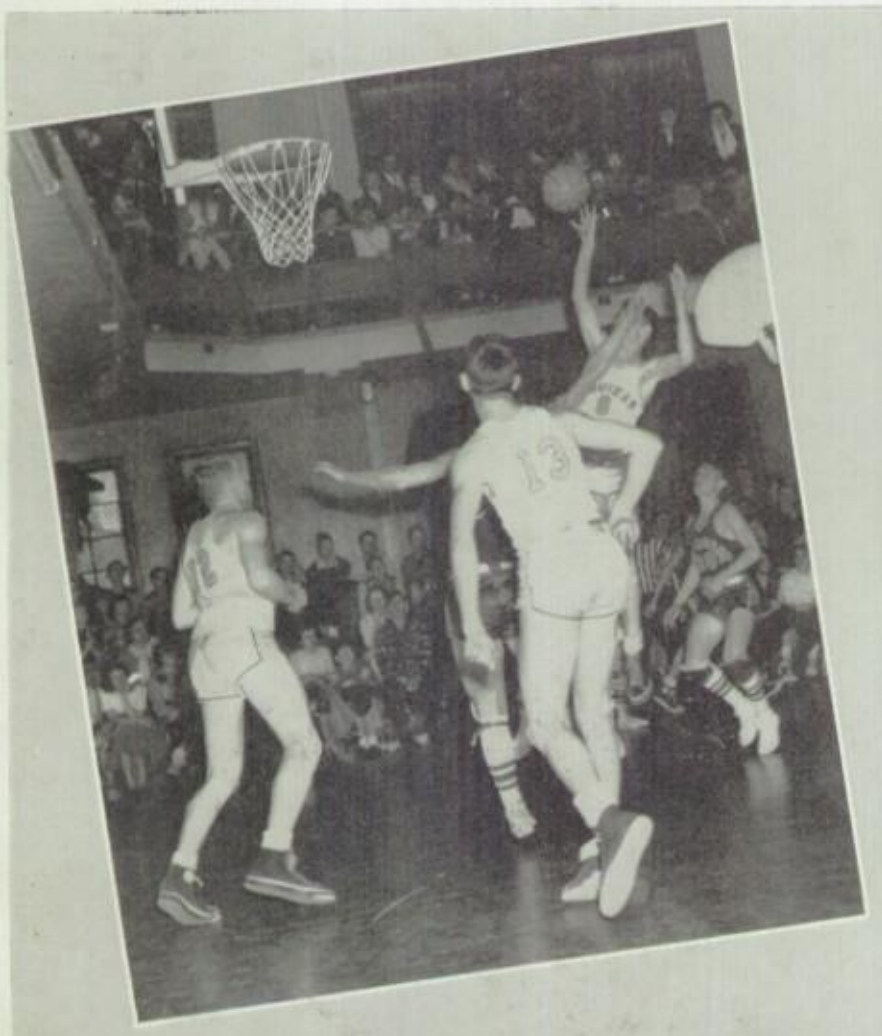
The lower left photo is a picture of the State-Catholic champions, pictured after an assembly given in their honor. The master of ceremonies was Stan Torgerson, WLCX radio announcer, who gave a play-by-play description of the tournament to local followers unable to attend the tournament.



In the finals of the tournament Aquinas met Marquette High School of Milwaukee. The Junior Hilltoppers were also a well-balanced team, possessing a great deal of height.

The Marquette High School team opened the point-making in the final game, establishing an early lead. The Blugolds struck back, gaining the lead midway in the initial stanza, never to lose it again. The Michutamen led 39-24 at the half, and were never in danger in the second half, sweeping on to victory by a 61-47 score.

Following the final game, the Blugolds received the beautiful Bishop Rhode Memorial Trophy. Three members of the first team, Mike Skemp, Tom Bruha, and Jim Temp, were awarded berths on the All-State team. The Blue and Gold were given additional honors by the spokesman of the group selecting the all-state team who suggested that each and every member of the team deserved a position on the team.

DePere tournament spectators left the gym with the conviction that they had seen one of the greatest high school teams ever assembled on the hardwoods. The Blugolds, under the leadership of Coach John Michuta, had established the amazing record of 21 wins along with one defeat. This team provided the best scoring record in the history of Aquinas, owing to good sportsmanship and a spirit of cooperation.

The Blugolds began their season in the Minneapolis arena, meeting a St. Cloud Cathedral team, defeating them, 37-33. Returning home, the Blue and Gold upset Immaculate Conception, Cedar Rapids, 54-38. St. Patrick's of Eau Claire was the third consecutive victim of the Blugolds, losing 58-43. Lourdes of Rochester then defeated the Aquinites, 58-57, for the only loss suffered by the Blugolds. This game was a thriller from beginning to end, with the Lourdes quintet dropping in the winning bucket at the final second of the game.

Recovering from their lone defeat, the Blue and Gold rolled over Logan, Cotter, McDonell, Central, and St. Patrick's by large margins. Victories 8, 9, and 10 came to the 'Golds as they routed Cotter, Viroqua, and Campion.

Aquinas continued its winning ways by trouncing Loras, Logan, Central, McDonell, and Campion, bringing the victory streak to 17 games. The Blugolds gained a revenge victory over Lourdes at Rochester, and then finished the season, defeating Loras, 56-53. A final record of 18 wins and one defeat was merited by the team.

Having completed the regular season, the Michutamen went to DePere for the All-State Catholic Tournament, returning with the title. Thus ends the greatest season in Aquinas basketball history for a team that will be long remembered for its stunning play and impressive record.

FUTURE CHAMPS

"B" Team

Freshman Squad

First row: Dick Weiland, Tony Solberg, Bill Coughlin, Jack Kerrigan, Tom Adams, and Roy Pearse.

Like the varsity, the "B" squad completed a successful '49-'50 season with a record of nine victories and four losses. The Staszakmen gave a lively example of basketball before each game, preparing the way for the varsity, and displaying a great deal of power and ability in winning double victories over Lourdes and Temp's Tavern. The team split games with Logan, Central, and St. Pat's. This squad also triumphed over Viroqua in its only encounter with the team.

CITY CHAMPS

The Aquinas Blugold nine had one of their most successful seasons during the '48-'49 year, winning seven and losing three games. The diamondmen started the season on the wrong foot, dropping the opener to Logan, 4-2. They roared right back, trouncing Campion, 4-2, but lost a decision to Cotter, 5-4, in a hard fought battle. Aquinas then met Logan in a return battle, blanking them 4-0. Traveling to Lourdes, the Staszakmen split a double-header, winning the first game, 5-0, and dropping the second, 2-1. Once warmed up, the Blugold nine knocked off their last four opponents by a convincing margin. Campion went down to defeat before the Blugold tide, 3-2; Central dropped two games, 4-1, and 9-7. Aquinas took revenge on the Cotter Ramblers handing them a 6-3 defeat.

Blugolds captured the intra-city title by defeating Central twice and splitting with Logan. The diamondmen possessed plenty of slugging power and were backed by the superb pitching of Rendler and Schiffer.

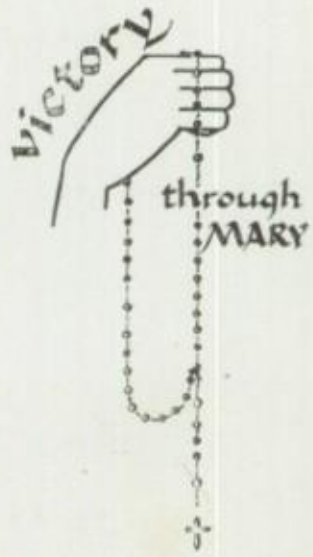
YEA, TEAM! RAH! RAH!



"Let's give a 'yea blue' - - 'yea gold'!" The football season of '49 not only saw the greatest football team in the history of the school, but backing them, an outstanding cheerleading troop. Led by Captain Jack Cagney, the cheerleaders instilled a spirit of loyalty into the crowds which played a large part in keeping an unblemished record. Though dominated by seniors, the squad represents every class. Clockwise, they are Philip Hutson, Frank Furlano, Jack Cagney, Richard Collins, Karl Leinfelder, Dick Kabat, and Mike Ziegelmaier.

With the arrival of basketball season came a second group of cheerleaders. This one consisted of girls in blue and gold uniforms. Giving a cry of victory are Betty Murphy, Carolyn McConaghy, Judy Bruha, Sue Ann Kelly, and Patricia Ferris.

HERE'S THE RACQUET

A veteran Blugold tennis team led by Dick McLoone and Dan Spika came out of the '49 season with a record of 4 wins and 2 losses. This well-balanced team had little trouble defeating Viroqua and Logan twice. Central, the defending City-Champions, took two hard fought matches from the Blugolds by identical scores of 4-3. In both matches the outcome was in doubt until the final game was played.

Tom Larkin battled through the season winning all his single matches. Bob Bruchman lost only one single match.

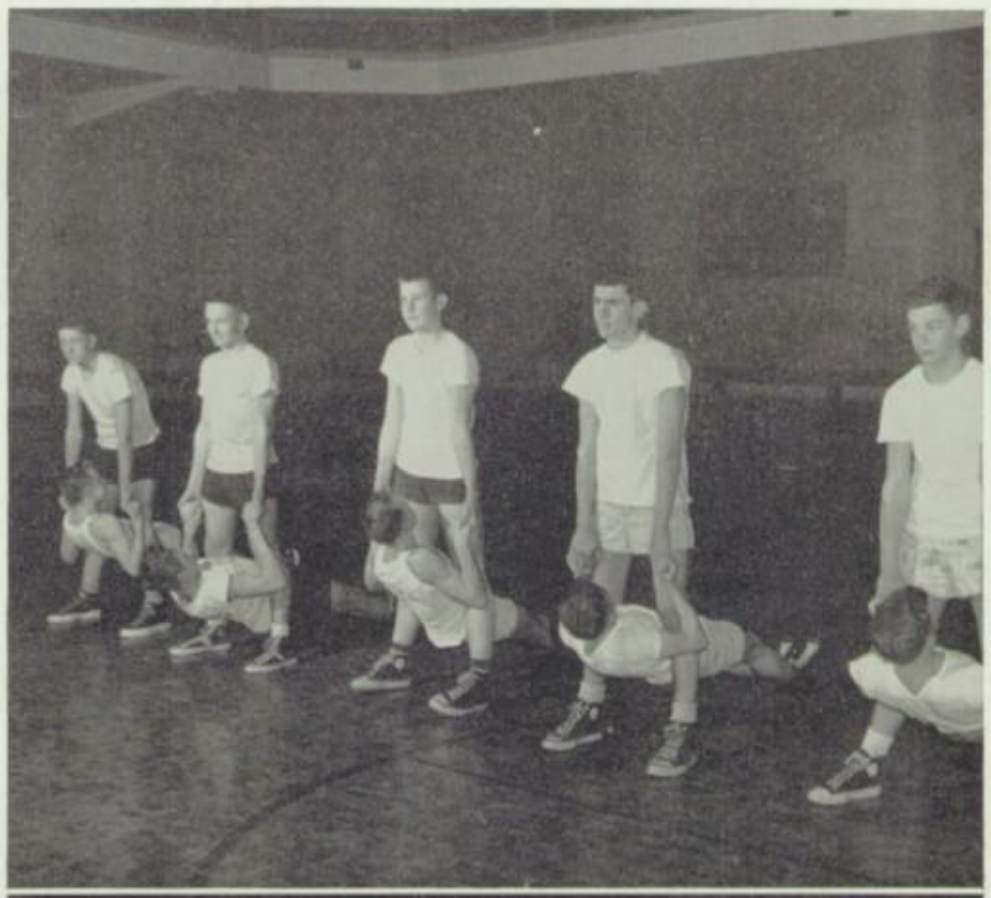
GOLF — CITY CHAMPS
1949 - 1950

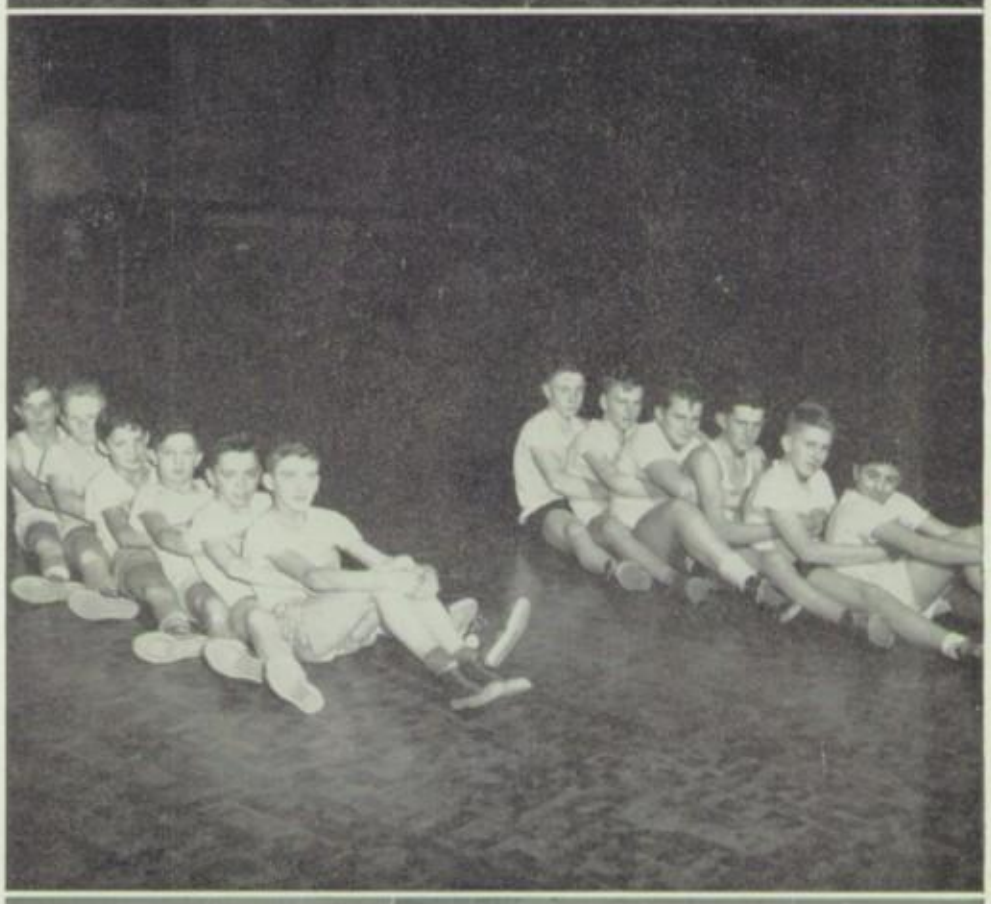
Swinging of golf clubs in the Aquinas gym is the first sign that spring is just around the corner. As in past years many hopeful golfers spent hours preparing themselves in this manner. When the snow finally melted and it was possible to practice on the greens and fairways of the golf course, the '49 Aquinas golf team was ready to launch on its most successful season in the history of the school.

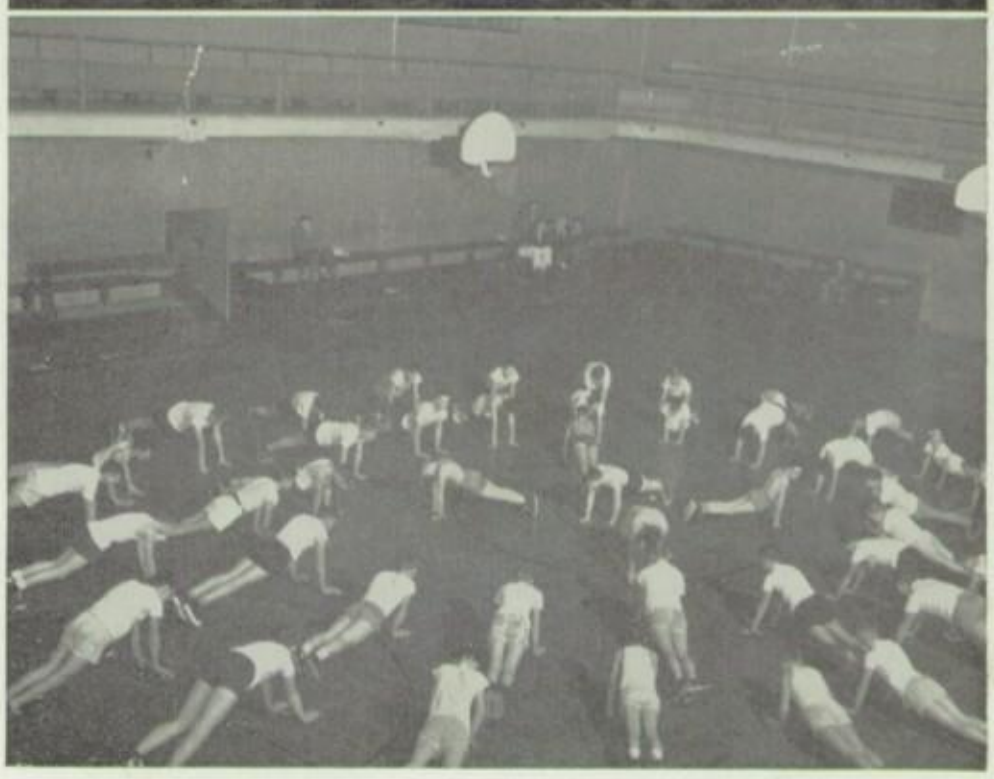
For the first time, the '49 golf team defeated their city rivals to become undisputed city champions. The team consisting of Ken Kubiak, Bill Kratt, Jerome Sweeney, Jim Kelly, Phil Hutson, and Tony Hoch was coached by John Michuta.

Their opening match with Lourdes, Rochester, Minn., and the return match with the same team were their only defeats of the season. On the other hand, they held double wins over Central and Logan of La Crosse, and Campion of Prairie du Chien, Wis. The '49 Aquinas golfers enjoyed a wonderful season and had a great team.

RECRUITING BLUGOLDS







The freshmen boys conduct their gym classes quite differently from other gym groups. The boys, directed by Ray Staszak, are self-governing and self-disciplined.

The top picture shows James Fredericks, Lauren Klos, Robert Saphner, James Frantz, and Mark Hamilton helping their friends do individual pull-ups.

Pictured in the center is a new sport — the caterpillar race in which the boys slide along the floor using only their feet. The legs of the first caterpillar belong to Clinton Abnet, Richard Walsh, Donald Witt, Michael Ziegelmaier, James Dunn, and Robert Dwyer. Members of the competing caterpillar are Bernard Wakeen, Michael Kevin, Kenneth Hansen, Eugene Bakalars, Richard Forer, and William Coughlin.

KEEPING IN TRIM

Next to the Square Dancers, the graceful ballerinas — Mary Lou Mosser, Fay Leinfelder, Sheila Murphy, Beverly Kerrigan, and Janet Reinhard — perform what is known in ballet circles as "position five."

The names do not suggest the nationality, but Delphine Soukup, Ann Kehoe, JoAnn Deyo, and Margaret Danielson are doing the Scottish dance, the Highland Fling.
